JOURNEYING TO DULUTH

Mr. Bryan Making Votes For the Silver Cause in Minnesota Today.

Flight of the Silver Special Marked
By the Acclaims of Thousands.

Many Speeches Made at Different
Stopping Places—St. Cloud's
Big Turnout.

Staples, Oct. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—William J. Bryan's tour of the Sixth district this morning was attended by large crowds and great enthusiasm. The train left Minneapolis at 8 o'clock and the first stop was for a minute at a small station called North-ern Pacific Junction, where a crowd had gathered, anxious to see the next president. Mr. Bryan came out on the rear platform of his car and was heartily cheered. He shook hands with most of the crowd, but made no speech.

ENTHUSIASM AT ANOKA.
The next stop was at Anoka, where about 500 people had gathered around a platform near the depot. Mr. Bryan's appearance was the signal for enthusiastic cheering and his spoke about ten minutes. At first he was rather hoarse, but his voice gradually improved. There were a number of Republicans in the crowd, who interpreted remarks to his speech, but the rest of the crowd loudly cheered every other sentence. He made the point that the gold standard can be maintained in only two ways: by selling more bonds or by the farmers selling their products at lower prices to bring more gold into the country. This might be good for Wall Street financiers, but it was not good for the farmers. The point took well and the farmers present cheered wildly.

THE BLK RIVER STOP.
Elk River was reached at 9 o'clock and about 400 people were congregated at the station and another scene of enthusiasm was presented. Mr. Bryan spoke briefly touching on the Mexican dollar and asking if the goldbugs do not cite it as an example of the blessings of a single gold standard. Mr. Towne was called for and made a few remarks.

BIG LAKE'S ROOSTER.
At Big Lake 200 people cheered wildly and Bryan spoke a few words. While he was speaking a silver topped rooster, on a stump a hundred yards away, crowed lustily.

ST. CLOUD'S DEMONSTRATION.
The great demonstration of the morning was at St. Cloud. The party were taken in carriages to Empire park, where an immense gathering was assembled. Not only was the park crowded, but the adjoining streets were filled. People were present from all parts of Stearns county, and there were delegations from Benson, Sherburne, Todd, Wright and Miller Lake county. It is estimated there were 15,000 people there, and a more wildly enthusiastic crowd was never seen. W. P. Renner, of St. Cloud, introduced Mr. Bryan, who was loudly cheered. He made a splendid speech, and it took with the crowd, which cheered again and again. One man shouted "Three cheers for Mr. Bryan and his party." and three cheers were given. Mr. Bryan quoted Bismarck's remark of a year ago that the interests of the farmers are caught by the dross of society, who produce nothing but laws. This made a hit with the crowd, as did his denunciation of the trusts, that are all arrayed on the gold side.

In closing he urged that the election of a silver president is not enough; there must be a silver congress. There was a splendid opportunity in this district to swell the silver majority in congress by electing Mr. Towne, for whom there is no one deserves more credit for the success of the present campaign in behalf of the people. Unless they were false to their own interests they would elect Towne. (Cheers.) He would rather have the aid of one Republican like Towne than sixteen Democrats who were driven out of the party.

Repeated cheers followed the close of Bryan's speech. There were loud calls for Towne and he responded with a short speech which met with enthusiastic applause.

A STOP AT RICE.
At Rice's station a small crowd was gathered. The train stopped and Mr. Bryan spoke briefly. He would rather have the aid of one Republican like Towne than sixteen Democrats who were driven out of the party.

CROWD AT LITTLE FALLS.
Little Falls was reached at 12 o'clock. About 2500 people were on hand to cheer the silver candidate. Mr. Bryan was escorted to a profusely decorated

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Associated Press' Story of the Day's Journey.

St. Cloud, Minn., Oct. 12.—William J. Bryan began early this morning on his actual work for this campaign. The special car "Hill" was pulled out of Minneapolis with the Bryan party aboard at 8 o'clock and in a short time the citizens of these small towns on the Northern Pacific road between the Twin Cities and Duluth were listening to the free silver doctrine as proclaimed by the standard bearer of that principle. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, beside the regular party, were Charles A. Towne, candidate for congress on the Democratic, Populist and Silver party tickets of the Sixth district; J. G. Hayter, candidate for representative from the First legislative district; Mrs. J. G. Hayter, T. T. Hudson, John W. Tompkins, of Alabama, and Judge J. C. H. Williams, of Canada, Ill.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the little city of Anoka was reached and Mr. Bryan descended the car steps that he believed in that platform from one end of it to the other. He explained that a dollar meant hard times to the producers of wealth and that anybody who believed in hard times could vote the Republican ticket.

A similar stop was made at Elk River and as that place many of those gathered about the depot did not hesitate to express their preference for the Republican nominee. A bunch of Mr. Bryan's supporters from a depot of the depot platform and cheered long and loudly and plenty for the Republican nominee. Mr. Bryan spoke from a stand erected a few feet from the tracks and made one of his usual two-minute speeches. A majority of the crowd cheered him and seemed to try to overcome the demonstration of their political opponents.

At the little station of Big Lake a few farmers welcomed the nominee. A flag of large proportions, one of home make, with a shovel handle as the staff, was waved enthusiastically in favor of Mr. Bryan by an excited, salivary farmer as the nominee spoke. Mr. Bryan said that this country was large enough for him to stand to its own business, and that he did not believe a foreign financial policy should be tolerated.

The city park of St. Cloud was well filled when the presidential nominee of three parties appeared in the city about metallism, and that nominated candidates who turned toward the gold standard. My friends, I think Bismarck, about a year ago, gave expression to a very important sentiment. Talking to the farmers of Germany, he said the farmers must stand together and protect themselves from the dross of society, who produce nothing but laws. I believe that Bismarck's classification of society on this question is a proper one. He puts the farmers on one side and the dross on the other, and, my friends, the dross have always found fault with the best.

A voice: "Hurrah for England!" Mr. Bryan—There is the first Republican I've seen this morning. (Laughter and applause.)

Another voice: "You've got to have a magnifying glass to see him." (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Bryan—I am glad there are a few of them left, because, you know, I always must be subjected to a man who stands upon the Republican platform. They are getting to be so few that he will draw a high price when they come around and want him for a museum. My friends, if you believe in free silver, if you believe in the money of the constitution, if you believe in an independent financial policy for the American people, you have got to have not only a president but a senate and a house of representatives. No bill can become a law until it is signed by the president, and no bill can be signed by the president until it has passed both houses.

Then if you are in earnest I want you to be just as earnest to send a congressman who is all right as you are to elect a president. You have a splendid opportunity in this district. In these latter days I have found so many bad Democrats and so many good Republicans who are right is a great deal better than a Democrat who is wrong. Of all the Republicans who are acting with us in this campaign, there is one who deserves more credit than that distinguished splendid opportunity in this district. In is now in congress, and who will be your member again, unless you are false to your own interests and the interests of your country. Why, my friends, I would rather have one man like Towne who is a Republican, with us, than to have sixteen of the Democrats whom we have driven out of the party by trying to do right. But, instead of giving sixteen Democrats for one Republican they have reversed the rule.

Yellow badges, with the name of the Republican candidate of the presidency were much in evidence when Mr. Bryan emerged from his special car at Little Falls and began to speak from a platform a hundred yards from the railroad.

HON. WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

There was no shouting for McKinley, but a large proportion of the audience that listened to Mr. Bryan's cascading of goldbugs had yellow badges bearing that insignia pinned prominently on their coats. Mr. Bryan said in part: "Ladies and Gentlemen—Sometimes I find persons who are in the condition of a gentleman described out in Nebraska. A lady down there said she had a broiled man was a gold man without any gold. You talk to a Republican about bimetalism and he will tell you he is just as good a bimetalist as anybody, but when you come to see on what kind of paper they print their badges you will find it is yellow. My friends, the Lord has made it possible for a man to conceal his real identity. When you find a man who talks about liking both metals, and who is a gold standard man, you will find his yellow will crop out on all occasions. And next of them are in the condition of the man in Nebraska, being gold men without any gold. "Our friends tell us that gold is the only good money, and yet they can't get the gold when they want it. Our opponents say the real reason why gold is so scarce now is because there is agitation about silver. They are telling us the silver craze is dying out, and yet it is so much alive that it has seared the gold out. My friends, isn't it a frail financial system that crumbles in the presence of a discussion? Isn't the gold standard a failure? Isn't the in a campaign where free coinage is discussed? If you will give us silver we will give them a foundation that won't slip out the moment you talk about the gold standard. "No party in this nation ever said that the gold standard was a good thing. No platform ever said it was a good thing, but the money changer and money owner say so. The trouble is the gold standard advocates dare not mention the results of the policy they advocate. Let them, instead of wearing yellow badges, print on a card: "Wear a yellow badge, citizens, but we think this nation is not big enough to attend to its own business," and then give the gold standard the condemnation of their fellow men. (Wild applause.)

WARLIKE ACTIVITY.

Russia Mobilizing Her Land and Sea Forces.

New York, Oct. 12.—A dispatch to the Herald from London says: The Daily Graphic today will publish a dispatch from Sebastopol, saying that Russia is continuing her preparations for an emergency. The local military and naval forces at Sebastopol, Odessa and Batoum, have been mobilized. Gen. Bakhroff, chief of the war office staff, recently arrived at Sebastopol and has held important conferences with the local commanders. He has inspected the garrison and arsenal and has picked out a company of submarine engineers who have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to immediately embark upon a gunboat. This gunboat is already loaded with shells and torpedoes. The interior garrison in Poland, Transilvania and the Caucasus have received orders to be in readiness at a moment's notice to board special trains for ports on the Euxine.

POISONED MILK.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Poison
Many People.

Almond, Wis., Oct. 12.—An unsuccessful and wholesale poisoning party green has been discovered. While preparing a can of milk for shipment, John Bibby, a wealthy milk shipper, noticed a peculiar color, and on investigation found a large quantity of Paris green at the bottom of the can. John Burns, another farmer, found a score of pails of Paris green and salt scattered in his pasture land, and Thomas Brown lost five of the most valuable cows of his herd from the same poison, deposited by unknown parties on his grazing range. No clue to the perpetrators of the outrage.

SHE WILL MARRY.

Miss Caldwell Weds a Marquis
Next Week.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Miss Mary Gwendolin Caldwell, founder of the D. winy college of the Roman Catholic university, in a letter to a friend here, announces that she will be married in December. Oct. 19 to the Marquis des Meriville. Her marriage will be a quiet one, owing to the recent death of a yachting accident of Baron Zedwitz, her brother-in-law. Bishop Spalding of the Peoria diocese, who is administrator of the Caldwell estate, will perform the ceremony.

Miss Caldwell is in her thirty-fourth year, and comes from a well known family of Richmond, Va., and is also related to the Brackinridge family of Kentucky. She inherited a large fortune from her father. The first building of the Catholic university was erected as a result of a donation of $50,000 from Miss Caldwell.

VISITORS AT CANTON.

Their Ardor Dampened By Inclement Weather.

Canton, Ohio, Oct. 12.—A special train of six coaches arrived this morning, after being en route since 5 o'clock last evening, bearing miners, mechanics and other citizens of the Lehigh valley of Pennsylvania. The inclement weather of yesterday still continued, and the visitors were taken to the Tabernacle, where Maj. McKinley went to receive their greetings. They gave him a most enthusiastic reception, and appeared to the echo. The visitors were introduced by ex-congressman Charles N. Brumm.

OLD VETERAN SUICIDES.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Department clerk on their way to office from Woodville, Ind., about ten miles from town, today discovered the dead body of Capt. Simon Kane, a former member of the Seventeenth Wisconsin volunteers, suspended from limb of a tree that had been blown over in the recent storm. Capt. Kane had been living in the Soldiers' home at Milwaukee and Marion, Ind., practicing at both places as a claim agent. About a month ago he came to New York, and his money giving out, sought to enter the home at Hampton, Va. It was feared his application might be unsuccessful, therefore he suicided.

MR. BRYAN'S PARTNER.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 12.—A. R. Talbot, law partner of William J. Bryan, last night gave the following signed statement to the Associated Press: "I see that it is stated in the press reports that I have 'bolted' Mr. Bryan, my law partner, now candidate for president on the Democratic ticket. I have always been and am now a Republican, but no man has a greater admiration or higher regard for Mr. Bryan than I have. His honesty, integrity and patriotism cannot be questioned. I have not bolted Mr. Bryan, and any statement to that effect is untrue. A. R. TALBOT."

AMERICAN MINERS IN COIRA.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—News has been received from the first party of American miners, who departed for the gold mines of Coira, in a letter written late in August. No serious trouble had been experienced from the natives and the friendly cooperation of the Coiran authorities had been shown the Americans. The ledges are spoken of as being very promising and a ten-stamp mill was being put in position.

WEST END

All West Duluth Turned Out to Hear Bryan Last Night.

The Silver Strength is Increasing at an Astonishing Rate.

U. S. G. Sharp Has Found His Stolen Tent at Proctorknott.

Nearly all West Duluth turned out to see and hear Bryan last evening and this portion of the city was comparatively deserted after 6 o'clock. The silver strength is increasing here every day and outside of those who are on the Republican payroll there are but few now who advocate the gold standard publicly upon the streets.

FOUND HIS TENT.
Some days ago U. S. G. Sharp lost a tent that was pitched in his yard near his residence. It was badly stolen and taken to Proctorknott. Since the thief, Officer Briggs has been on the watch for the property and yesterday he located it at Proctorknott. It would probably have been found sooner, but the parties who stole it made good use of the property by going on a camping tour and it was discovered while in the process of drying off after the trip. It is no known whether the parties who stole it will be prosecuted or not by the owner of the tent.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.
The Women's Christian Temperance union will meet on Thursday, Oct. 15, at 2:30 p. m., at the Congregational church. Subject: "Ideal Home." Mrs. Elsie, leader.

Dr. Forbes will lecture at Assembly M. E. church on Friday evening on the subject: "How Much is He Worth?" The registration in West Duluth was heavy yesterday and in some of the precincts was equal to more than half of the votes.

A dance will be given tomorrow night by the young people at Isaacson & Kauppi's hall. Refreshments will be served and a good time is expected.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a social at Assembly M. E. church tomorrow evening.

FOR PROMPT RETURNS.
Auditor Halden is Arranging to Get Them.

County Auditor Halden is considering arrangements for receiving prompt returns from the many election districts outside the city of Duluth. In the past no official returns were available until the time came to canvass the votes. Official returns promptly will be operated. The judges in each election district will be provided with sample ballots and stamped envelopes addressed to the auditor with instructions to fill the blanks out and mail them immediately.

In districts near to city the judges will bring in returns as soon as they are counted.

Articles Filed.
Articles of Incorporation of the Woodbridge Building company, to control the Woodbridge building, were filed this morning in the register's office by W. C. Woodbridge, P. F. Upham and Charles G. Miller. The capital stock is $50,000, and the limit of indebtedness is $50,000.

A certificate of incorporation of the Duluth Lodge No. 144, K. of P., was filed yesterday afternoon. The lodge was instituted Aug. 10 and the officers are as follows: S. C. Hays, chancellor; J. L. Darns, president; C. W. Robb, keeper of records and seal; H. Nathanson, master of finance; A. P. Goss, master of ceremonies; P. E. Dowling, W. W. Caldwell, E. F. Reamer, trustees.

Detectives Troyer and Donovan captured two pickpockets whom they found trying to ply their trade among the crowd as it was leaving the car barn last evening. The men were first pointed out by a Pinkerton detective, who is accompanying the Bryan party and the local detectives were requested to keep an eye on them. At the station, they gave their names as James Parker and Henry Brown. Parker, who is about 17 years old, first said his home was in West Duluth, but finally admitted that he lived in Minneapolis. Brown, who is a man of about 28 years of age, is a resident of the same city. They had secured no property and were allowed to go, after their pictures had been taken, with the injunction to get out of town.

OBJECTS

Nils Nilson Will Try to Prevent the Water Election.

District Court Will Be Asked to Issue an Injunction.

Henry F. Greene, the Attorney, is in Charge of the Suit.

There is a possibility that the people will not be called on to vote on the proposition to purchase the gas and water plants for $1,000,000. Papers are now being prepared in a suit in which Nils Nilson is plaintiff and the city of Duluth is defendant, in which an order will be asked restraining the city clerk from issuing the ballots on the measure to the officers of election.

The proceeding will be based on the contention that it would be illegal to submit the proposition at any election other than a general election or a special election called for that purpose, and that to do so will involve the city in litigation.

H. F. Greene, who is attorney in the case, is confident that the proceeding is based on grounds that are sound. It is understood that Mr. Greene's view is sustained by S. T. Harrison, who rendered an opinion on the same question within the past three weeks at the instance of a member of the council water-works committee. It may be remembered in passing that the city does not seem to have had the benefit of this opinion, it not having been resorted to to aid the council in its deliberations on the question of submitting the purchase proposition. Whether this opinion was paid for out of the city treasury is not known.

Mr. Greene was found at his office this afternoon and asked in regard to the matter. He said that the papers in such a proceeding are being prepared, and that the ground of the action will be the illegality of submitting the proposition at the coming election. He was asked if his views are not the same as those of S. T. Harrison, who had been consulted in regard to the matter, to which he replied that they were the same. "I have consulted with him," he said, "and I am satisfied the proposed submission would be invalid. I can't say why they should be so anxious to submit it at this election."

MARINE BANK CLOSED.

Bank Examiner is Ordered to Take Charge.

The Marine National bank failed to open its doors today. A notice posted on the door said:

"Owing to inability to make collections (as: enough to meet withdrawals, the bank has been compelled to close its doors with a view of going into voluntary liquidation."

"All deposits will be paid in full. By order of the board of directors. J. P. JOHNSON, Cashier."

This result was the outcome of a meeting of the directors held last evening at which the controller of the currency advised late last night. He has today advised the bank by message stating that Examiner Talbert has been directed to take charge.

President Saville and Cashier Johnson state that during the past sixty days, since the other bank troubles in the city, the deposits have been $200,000, and that it has been impossible to make collections or raise money rapidly enough to meet them. The official statement of the bank on July 14 showed deposits of $362,000 and they have fallen to about $300,000. The assets consist of real estate, redemptions $19,800, and bills payable $82,000. To offset and pay these the bank has a reserve of $200,000.

From this showing the officers and directors have no hesitancy in saying that the depositors will be paid in full.

The bank was organized in 1889 as a savings bank, and was reorganized in 1891. E. E. Searle purchased the interest of and succeeded Thomas Culliford as president in March, 1894, since previous to which time J. P. Johnson has been cashier. During the past two years it has grown rapidly and more than doubled its business and became the third largest in the city.

The county had on deposit $48,000 covered by a bond twice or three times that. The limit of deposit was $100,000. There may be checks outstanding which will bring the deposit a little higher.

The city had on deposit $300,000. A Washington dispatch to The Herald-Special: The report of the condition of the Marine National bank of Duluth, which was received from Examiner J. T. Talbert, was dated Sept. 28. It shows that the bank liabilities at that date were as follows: Capital stock, $200,000; surplus, $100,000; undivided profits, $45,000; due banks, $150,000; due depositors, $255,570; circulation, $46,000; notes and bills redemptions, $12,000; bills payable, $28,395. The assets consisted of the following items: Loans and discounts, $329,435; overdrafts, $1831; bonds to secure circulation, $50,000; premium on same, $900; stocks and securities, $68,791; real estate, $20,025; due from reserve agents, $34,741; due from other banks, $13,805; lawful money, reserve, $12,354; other cash items, $3174. Controller Eckels today wired Examiner J. T. Talbert at Minneapolis to go to Duluth at once and take charge of the bank.

At the Pavilion.

The Plantation Minstrels gave a pleasing entertainment last evening to a fair-sized house. In fact, much more than anticipated, owing to the excitement in the city. Every act was heartily applauded, and the good to show that Manager Alexander has, as he claims, a "show for the people."

The singing of the quartet, "The Song of the People," and the "Papa and His Boy" are well worth double the price of admission. Everything so bright, clean and witty, the merits of the show are in many ways much superior to many so-called minstrel shows which carry a number of people, only a few of them being performers. In this case every member is a performer and an artist.

WOMEN VOTE

FOR PRESIDENT

For the first time in the history of this country an opportunity for women to publicly express their choice for president is offered. The method is unique, and will result in showing on Nov. 4 just what effect the woman's vote will have on national affairs.

A manufacturer who has business relations with most of the prominent newspapers in the United States, proposes the plan as follows:

All women over 18 are entitled to one vote. The votes by states will be shown in the papers on every Wednesday and Saturday until Nov. 4. Women are requested to read more than one side of the question and act upon their own judgment. Write the name of candidate on a postal card and write your own name and address clearly, also city and state. On the lower left hand corner give the name of a banker or grocer who knows you.

This precaution is to prevent flooding the mail with fictitious votes. Names unknown to grocer or banker will be thrown out. Be very careful to write clearly, and an acknowledgment of the receipt of each vote will be sent to the fair voter. Send the postal to Postum Cereal Food Company, Battle Creek, Mich. It is urged that every woman will not hesitate to expend a penny to register her preference at this most interesting period of national history.

This company have a national reputation and pledge their integrity and honor to report the vote exactly as received, without fear or favor. A sworn statement of the final vote polled up to 7 p. m. Nov. 4 will be published Nov. 7, and the vote as it progresses will be shown on every Wednesday and Saturday between now and then.

Sole agents Dunlap & Co.'s Hats, John B. Stetson Co.'s Hats, $4, $5, "Guyler," $4; Imperial, $3.

Rough Wear.

The satisfactory hat, no matter what its price, is the hat that will stand rough wear, and still look well—that doesn't mind water—that doesn't fade. Such a hat you will find in this stock at $3. Other styles at $2.50 to $5. Sole agents Dunlap & Co.'s Hats, John B. Stetson Co.'s Hats, $4, $5, "Guyler," $4; Imperial, $3.

ronto firm, (R. Laidlaw & Co.) last week purchased in this country 5,000,000 feet of lumber. The agent of the Toronto firm informed us that American quotations were much lower than Canadian, and that he could purchase almost the entire product of the country, ship it to Toronto, pay freight and have a splendid commission over and above all freight costs. Yet what a terrible howl these same lumbermen make about Canadian competition.

THE GOLDBUGS SCARE.
The goldbugs in New York are scared out of their boots by the strength of the silver forces. They had been battering themselves that the "silver craze" as they contemptuously called it, had been stamped out, and that goldbugs and Hamilton would have an easy victory. But they have suddenly discovered that the silver movement is not dead or even moribund, but is alive and progressive and sweeping all before it in the West and South and making rapid headway in the East. The result is that the goldbugs in New York are badly scared.

The New York Journal recently published an article sounding the alarm that "sound money" under which pseudonyms the goldbugs masquerade, has but a sorry prospect of winning. The World, after referring to the various states in which the Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans have fused, says: "In brief, fusion has made it necessary that there shall be enormous Democratic defections from the free silver ticket if Mr. McKinley is to have even a respectable majority of the electoral votes. For even if he gets every state east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and the Potomac, which includes Delaware and Maryland, and gets West Virginia also, he still needs two votes to make the necessary majority. This is the campaign at a glance—the peril of free silver's success, the peril of free silver's bare defeat."

THE BATTLE IN OHIO.
Z. M. Backus received a letter yesterday from J. P. Wilson, a prominent lawyer of Youngstown, Ohio, in which the following statement is made: "Bryan is gaining in the rural precincts every day. Unless McKinley gains largely in the cities and labor centers, he will lose Ohio." Mr. Backus has received similar advice from other correspondents in Ohio.

These private advices confirm what the managers of the silver campaign have said that Ohio is a doubtful state and lend strength to the conclusion reached by such a coal-headed and conservative observer as Henry George, that the defection among the former Republican farmers and the practically lost labor vote of Cleveland and other cities will give Ohio to Bryan. If McKinley should carry his own state, he will not have many votes to spare.

CLOUGH'S BAD RECORD.
The "St. Cloud Journal-Press" says: "No man in Minnesota has yet said that Dave Clough has not made a good governor. The Journal-Press, which is a leading paper in the state, has not said so. Why, the state is full of men who have made this statement. There are many Republican papers that have stated it repeatedly, and are now organs of his election because of that reason. Dave Clough, by vetoing the bill to put the grain inspection department under civil service rules, proved himself unfit to be entrusted with the responsibilities of governor. Many of his appointments have been by the back of the hand. The Journal-Press speaks eloquently of his unfitness for the office. And the Dakota & Hastings railroad land deal, which self-respecting Republican journals throughout the state have to defend, stamps him as a dishonest man to occupy the governorship. Dave Clough a "good" governor? If the dictionaries should be revised and a new definition of goodness be inserted.

THE CANTON "CROWDS."
They are telling the following story in the East, and it is stated positively that it is a true story. A few days ago a few small boys of about 10 years of age, from Canton, Ohio, by a goldmine manufacturer. The major gave them one his little two-for-a-nickel address, and sent them away with his blessing. The boys came back to the depot and found that their train would not start for two hours. One of them proposed that they go back and see McKinley and ask him a few questions about his Toledo speech in 1891. So they all marched back and when Mr. McKinley saw them coming he supposed it was another drove of "cattle," so he picked up Speech No. 76 and went at them before the spokesman had time to say a word. After dismissal the boys trooped back to town feeling so funny that the people who met them on the street concluded that the major had been getting off one of his side-splitting jokes about opening the mills with high taxes.

"Boys, let's do it again!" said one of the Pennsylvanians after they had been at the depot a little while. All agreed, and back they went the third time, headed by another spokesman who mumbled a few words as they stood before the major again. He was at the depot and gave them Speech No. 77 in his best style. The boys could hardly wait till they got out of hearing before they burst into a roar of laughter, or, rather, a dozen roars. The next morning all the papers in New York and Chicago contained a couple of columns of solid type telling all about the three immense delegations from Pennsylvania that had met Mr. McKinley, some 10,000 or 12,000 and how they cheered and applauded him!

A GOLDBUG SHINDIG.
The New York Herald, which can hardly be accused of prejudice against goldbugs, reports a campaign affair at a banner raising last Saturday night. It occurred, not in the rowdy West, but in the plush state of New Jersey; not at an "anarchist" meeting, but at a Republican rally; the fighters were not "crazy silverites," but gentle, "house" money advocates anxious to "preserve the honor" of this great republic. All were Republicans and helped raise a McKinley banner. They were full of Hanna enthusiasm. When the speakers got started, the Herald says, "the row began. Bawls began to fly and knives were drawn. George Ackerman was stabbed three times in the ribs and fell unconscious on the road. Edward Roney was struck on the head with a bottle and badly hurt. A man named Guiney was stabbed in the back of the head and seriously wounded. Fred Cherry was also struck with a bottle. These only slighted battered and mangled the goldbugs masquerade, has but a sorry prospect of winning. The World, after referring to the various states in which the Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans have fused, says: "In brief, fusion has made it necessary that there shall be enormous Democratic defections from the free silver ticket if Mr. McKinley is to have even a respectable majority of the electoral votes. For even if he gets every state east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and the Potomac, which includes Delaware and Maryland, and gets West Virginia also, he still needs two votes to make the necessary majority. This is the campaign at a glance—the peril of free silver's success, the peril of free silver's bare defeat."

A BAD OUTFIT.
The Anoka Union, which is supporting Dave Clough and the Republican state ticket, as well as the gold standard, makes the following startling declaration: "There are meaner and worse men than David M. Clough on the Republican state ticket, and a telescope is not required to bring them to view, either."

If the Union is correct—and The Herald will not dispute its assertion in regard to a subject with which it is so well acquainted—the Republican state ticket, as a whole, must be a pretty tough outfit. If there are worse men on it than Dave Clough, they must be bad indeed. But The Herald did not expect the Anoka paper, which loves Bill Marston and his crew of political cutthroats, to admit so freely. Fortunately the whole ticket will be buried out of sight on Nov. 3.

The Pioneer Press and other papers charge Mr. Bryan with telling two stories—one to the laboringman and one to the farmer—and print extracts from his speeches to support their claim. The dishonesty of these goldbug organs is shown by the fact that when these extracts are read in connection with their context there is no contradiction whatever.

The Herald will publish tomorrow "further facts in the case of Mark Hanna," as given by Alfred Henry Lewis in the New York Journal. It should be read by every workman and by every friend of organized labor. Mr. Lewis does not deal in generalities. He uses plain words in describing Hanna's record.

"Jerry J." of the Minneapolis Journal is traveling over the state predicting the result of the congressional fight. Up to date he has elected the Republican candidate in each district he has visited. As his political predictions are never verified, Chairman Rosing's claim of seven silver congressmen is likely to prove correct.

The Minneapolis Journal a few days ago published the amusing story that Congressman Towne was somewhat embarrassed by the night in this district, and that "this physique shows the marks of hard campaigning." There is no truth in the statement. Mr. Towne never has been in better condition than now.

Daniel O'Connell once said: "We take our religion from Rome, but not our politics." It is in this spirit that most Irish Catholics will read Archbishop Ireland's letter in support of the gold standard.

The election of John Lind to the governorship would test the good name of this state, which has been seriously besmirched by the Merriam gang, of which Dave Clough is the willing tool.

Senator Gorman last night made his first political speech that he has delivered for years, and it was a good one. He denounced the "decoy duck" ticket in fitting terms.

Mr. Lind will speak at Little Falls on Oct. 23 and at Brainerd on Oct. 24. The next governor will receive an enthusiastic reception at both places.

Register on Tuesday next. Make a note of this duty and do not fail therein. If you do not register you cannot vote on Nov. 3.

It is announced in a Rome cablegram that the Vatican disapproves of Archbishop Ireland unduly religion and politics.

Register on Tuesday next or you cannot vote.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR.
Winona Herald: It is now generally conceded that John Lind will be the next governor of Minnesota no matter how the electoral vote may go; and with Mr. Lind the entire fusion state ticket. The Chicago Tribune admits this after a big prairie fire near Belvidere and Sulby last night. The fire burned for three hours, and did much damage to cattle and sheep interests. It is believed that the fire was caused by a lighted torch thrown by a man in the crowd. The fire was extinguished by the fire department.

QUAY'S LAWYER.
Minneapolis Times: Mr. Quay's latest estimate is said to be as follows: For Mr. Bryan, some $200,000; for Mr. McKinley, $100,000; for Mr. Quay, $50,000. The estimate is said to be as follows: For Mr. Bryan, some $200,000; for Mr. McKinley, $100,000; for Mr. Quay, $50,000.

THE POSTAL BALLOT.

National Democratic Committee Warns Voters Against It.

National Democratic Headquarters, Chicago, Ill., Oct. 12.—Evidence continues to accumulate that the Democratic headquarters showing that the alleged ballot, being taken by a Chicago goldbug organ is fraudulent from start to finish. The Democratic committee has in its possession letters sent to men who did not reside at the places the letters were sent, and also numbers of letters from postmasters to the effect that only Republican and gold Democrats' names were furnished the paper from outside of Chicago. A letter from a certain town in Illinois states that the majority of 100 names only eight were those of silver men. There is also a proof that hundreds of letters sent to lodging houses in Chicago to voters who have long since returned by land opened by landlords of the houses, in the employ of Mark Hanna, and the postal cards filled out with the name of McKinley and returned to the newspaper office. The whole scheme is one of fraud and deception, and may be taken as the first step in a conspiracy to do away with popular elections under the law and place the molding public sentiment in the hands of millionaires and corporations.

ON THE MESABA RANGE.

Sparta to Have Its First Election Saturday.

Biwabik, Minn., Oct. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new village of Sparta at Ely Lake will hold its first election for the selection of village officers tomorrow. Although there are only about fifty voters there are already three tickets in the field, and a lively time is promised. One of the tickets is as follows: For president, A. V. Fuller, treasurer, Mr. Mace, and clerk, Mr. Williams. Dan La Mace, treasurer, Frank Klink, recorder, Walter C. Fuller, justice of the peace, Joseph Leach, J. B. Richardson, constable, H. A. Fowler, clerk, Karl.

A crime, nearly a murder, was committed in Sparta last week. Ed Krompasky, a resident of Biwabik, was a saloonkeeper of Biwabik, and a brother-in-law of President Faber, of this place, was a local villain. He was with the boys. They wound up at the dance house, where they had a row over a game of cards. The next morning Krompasky was found in the woods near the dance house with his skull crushed in two places, and his body was broken. About $20 in money had been taken from his person. It was feared for some time that he could not survive, but he is now improving. However he will be a cripple for life as his spine was broken. It is understood that one arrest has been made, but details are difficult to obtain on account of the secrecy that has surrounded the whole affair.

The funeral of Joseph C. Healy, who died at Mesaba Monday morning, was held here yesterday at the Catholic church. Rev. Father Buh, of Tower, presided. The number of the workers at the mill and other citizens of Mesaba accompanied the remains to this place, while the services were also attended by a large number of Biwabik people. The remains were buried in the Biwabik cemetery.

The Cincinnati mine has not accomplished its purpose of mining silver. Operations were resumed, on account of the fact that there has been considerable interest in clearing up the mine of water. However, that problem is now overcome. It is unlikely that the mine will be opened again. The mine was now owned by the Biwabik people. It was now owned by the Biwabik people. It was now owned by the Biwabik people.

Mrs. F. J. Colvin has returned home from a visit with her relatives in Bradford, Pa. George Wood, of this place, has secured a contract on the county road, and started out this week with teams, implements and men. He is now working on the road. He is now working on the road. He is now working on the road.

WAS SOLD

The Equity in the Merchants Hotel Property Disposed of.

W. R. Melnhardt Bought It For the Sum of Twenty-Five Dollars.

Satisfaction of Judgment Filed in the John J. Moran Case.

The equity of the Merchants Hotel company in the furniture and fixtures of the Merchants hotel and the lease of the hotel building have been sold to William R. Melnhardt for $25. The above articles are saddled with a mortgage for $2000 on which $638.14 is due. Melnhardt also bought all the book accounts for $25, the stock of liquor and cigars for $300, and certain articles of personal property not enumerated in the assets as reported to the district court for $10.50.

The sale was made by John T. Armstrong, the assignee of the Merchants Hotel company, by public auction in the lobby of the hotel, and Assignee Armstrong filed his report of the sale in the district court this morning, together with a petition for the court to approve the sale. Accompanying the report and petition is an affidavit by L. S. Loeb to the effect that he is experienced in the liquor business, and that in his opinion the stock of liquor and cigars was not worth more than $300, and that that was a good price.

Judge Ensign has signed an order setting the hearing of the assignee's petition for the approval of the sale for tomorrow in special term, when creditors who desire to do so may take exception to it. Judge Ensign also signed an order limiting the time for creditors to file claims to Oct. 22.

The total amount received from the sale of the assets of the Merchants Hotel company was $966.50.

MORAN CASE SETTLED.

Satisfaction of Judgment Was Filed Today.

The satisfaction of a large judgment for personal injuries was left in district court this morning. The case was that of that John J. Moran against the Eastern Railway of Minnesota, and the judgment was obtained in January, 1902. The amount, with interest and costs, is $14,077.77. In March the judgment was assigned to Timothy Foley for a consideration of $5000, and this morning a satisfaction was filed with the clerk of court, showing that it had been paid in full. There were several attorneys' fees upon the judgment at the time the verdict was rendered attracted great notice and because of the decidedly sensational nature of an attachment that was levied on an Eastern Minnesota railway train, and for some time as though the operation of the road was going to be interfered with.

CRAZY GUS IRELAND.

His Insanity Takes a Rather Peculiar Form.

A man who gives his name as Gus Ireland will involve Duluth in a row with Russia if he keeps on. He already has in Russia bear showed his teeth and in local diplomatic circles it is considered a possibility that Czar Alexander and Czar Reed may both invade Duluth at the same time. Secretary of the Navy Wilson, by way of preparing for trouble, has been instructed by the board of public works to acquire the boats of the municipal navy now coming in from the fleet. The incident occurred yesterday, when Ireland appeared at a public hearing and asked Chief Hansen to take charge of his gun, as he was afraid he would not be able to do so. He was leaving it without a receipt at first, but after seeing Chief Hansen, he changed his mind and demanded one.

Mr. Ireland then disappeared and was next seen through at alarm of fire he turned in from box 42, at the corner of Seventh and Superior streets, at 2 o'clock this morning, which tumbled the fire department on.

About 2 o'clock this morning, Officer McKenzie was told there was a man wandering in the vicinity of the incline in a state of nudity and with no shoes on. After searching him, it was found that he was Ireland and was taken to the station and booked as insane.

About 10 o'clock in the forenoon the Russian government appeared on the scene. At the hour named a messenger entered Chief Hansen's office with the following telegram:

"Chicago, Oct. 16, 1896.—Please kindly inform what charges against Gustaf Herter, Jim. He wires claiming Russian citizenship. Arrested by Duluth police officers. BARON SCHLIPFENBACH, Russian Consul."

About an hour after the Russian boat had pranced in with froth dripping from its tubes, a young lady called in and said that Ireland or Herter had promised to marry her and she asked Chief Hansen what she had better do about it.

"Main Gott!" exclaimed that official, replying in the excitement of the moment into the dialect of the fatherland, "what next?"

The chief soon recovered himself and advised the young lady that she had better postpone the wedding for a few days as the gentleman had been acting a little queer and she retired to think it over.

Ireland has been working in the chair factory at South Superior and he says he is probably unbalanced mentally and an inquiry will be made into his condition.

U. S. Labor Leader Addressed

Evening.

Speech Devoted Mainly to Telling Why He Has Flopped.

W. Wright, Also an Ex-Labor Leader, Spoke at Length.

The new armory hall was nearly filled at night to hear the ex-labor leader W. Powderly, a crowd of about 1500 people being present, many of whom

The ladies. The train bearing the speaker and his party was late in arriving and it was after 8 o'clock when the program began. The first musical number, music was rendered by the Swedish quartet. Accompanying Mr. Power were A. W. Wright, ex-member of the House of Representatives, Labor, and Charles Kohls, of Buffalo, N. Y., both of whom also spoke.

The rally for "sound money" and "sound business" was held at the Jefferson hotel, the apostle of free trade, who introduced the speakers.

Mr. Wright first addressed the assembly. He opened with questions in his campaign, he said, are tariff and currency. There is also one of significance, he said, is the tariff. Cleveland. The workmen should spend the plank of the Democratic platform, he said, and the tariff is a question at they are disposed to riot and strike.

Turning up the currency question, the speaker said he hoped he would be able to make the tariff question would make some of the audience think.

known by the company it keeps, and that if he was shown these who cry on the voice he would show the same. (A voice: "Hurrah for Bryan.") Could Mr. Bryan, the speaker asked, tell the people to look at the men behind him?

"Look at Tammany, the greatest set of rogues you ever knew of," said he. "It has made its name in the streets of all decent men, and at Governor Altgeld, who is more than any man in the country for doing right to the country with the prison made goods of Illinois. If Bryan wants to draw converts, let him go to Tammany, who, as Shakespeare says, rather odorous."

The speaker denounced the article in the World of Governor Altgeld's alleged betrayal of the London Financial News as a forgery. Bismarck's letter, as published, he said, a garbled and untrue version of the original statement attributed to Mr. not Lord.

At this time, the governor of the Bank of England, Lord Montagu, was in London. "I shall therefore," he said, "be bare-faced and impudent."

ST. JACKS: BRYAN'S CREDIT. "My friend," Mr. Bryan, in New London," he continued, "tried to make the people believe that the national bank system was a bad one. It may have its weak points, but it should be candid. In speaking of the failure of the Bank of London, he said something that indicated that he was a man of sense."

"Could Mr. Bryan, the speaker asked, "find it in his heart to look at the people behind him?"

"It has made his name stink in the nostrils of all decent men, and at Governor Altgeld, who is more than any other man responsible for filling the country with the prison made goods of Illinois. If Bryan wants to draw comparisons with these men, they are, as Shakespeare says, rather odorous."

The speaker denounced the article

The Grip of Gold," published as having been taken from the London Financial News as a forgery. Bismarck's letter, as published, is, he said, a garbled reduction. The speaker said that the statement attributed to Mr., not Lord, Liddersdale, the governor of the Bank of England, was never made by him. "All these," he said, "are bare-faced fabrications."

will bring prosperity? (A voice: "No.")

The speaker went on to state the facts of free coinage. It would cause "a great deal of trouble," said he, "who is wise will put up his money. (A voice: "Like Mark Twain.") "Yes," said those who were said he, "that if they will read in the Bible, they will find that the Jews at Ananias and Sapphira they didn't have so much to say about free coinage. (A voice: "Yes.") "In currency under free coinage, in the bank these wages went up 50 per cent. (A voice: "Yes.") "I can't answer that. (A voice: "Yes, he can't.") "Yes, he can't," said the speaker. (A voice: "How about McHenry?") He answers thousands of questions. (A voice: "Yes.") "Yes." In all free silver countries, the workers are in a miserable condition. (A voice: "Yes.") "Yes." In Russia they are bad off, and in China they are worse off. (A voice: "Yes.") "Yes." He speaks a day and taking it out in a week.

After 12 speakers then attacked the Democratic party's position on the tariff, and the speaker, who was Judge Whelan's face, said that the tariff was a "great blessing."

The last issue of the Rainy Lake Journal contains the following: "Last week a Little Turtle river prospector was out on the lake. He had a boat and wanted a clean shave. A heavy rain came on and he was obliged to be tackled by the barber with a five dollar razor. The result was that a gold brick was thrown at the barber, one of that beard, and a nick an inch long was made in the barber's hair. The barber snapped out of the razor in a fifty. Now, our readers may think this is a joke, or a story, but it is a fact. It is a sober truth. If you don't want to take a chance of getting a gold brick thrown at you, the razor, you must have the razor."

The Lucky Cow and the test run of the mill, and its ore put through its mill, and the result was a gold brick of 100 lbs. weight. The mill was a free-milling one, with a heavy percentage of concentrates.

The Lucky Cow and Fred Blanchard are up to the Manitow with A. E. Howe, and they are all well. They are satisfied with their property will pay $200,000 for the Manitow, a 20-acre piece of Big Manitowish.

The Manitow is said to be alive with ers in the roof. During the era of treason, said the speaker, the councilmen were "all my own boys."

MR. POWDERLY TALKS.
Judge White then introduced Mr.
Powderly, who was received with applause. Mr. Powderly said he had been in advance certain utterances that should be circulated by the free silver people and attributed to him. The first was "I am a Republican," and the second,
"I am a Democrat." He began, "I am Jerry," and beginning, "I am Hayes," in which the speaker is referred to as the Republican party forger, he said:

"You will see our other documents," said the speaker, "and you will find that I never was in favor of silver."

The speaker then referred to the article in "The North American Review," of December, 1896, in which it was stated that Mr. Powderly said: "If you will study that carefully," said he, "you will see that it is not true. It is a very good new revelation to me. I say that silver was sorely depressed to buy gold property.

The clean-up of the Little America
Hotel was a complete satisfaction to the management, which is inclined to be reticent about the workings of the mine and the hotel, the line man many western purposes.

He had been up at the court house, he said, in an affidavit, signed by Frank J. Luckenbach, that silver demonization was accomplished by the aid of the "niggers" of New York and inquired about Mr. Luckenbach down around the city street, among his acquaintances, and they all told him that Luckenbach is a low, worthless character. This had set him to thinking, and he had called on Mr. Stewart, and found that each of the statements issued by Mr. Wright are true. He held on that story, he said, having written the article in the North American newspaper in the year 1860, and that it was greater than that of 1861. Few colored men a slavery more so than those from whom they were held.

many sewing machines and a standard. From inquiries in Chicago, we learned that from 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 sewing machines have been sold in this country since 1878. Senator Stewart changed his mind on this question. In 1874 he declared for a gold standard. In 1875 Peffer said the costlier meat must always give way under a double standard.

MISS ELLA KURTZ.

For 19 years I suffered from heart trouble. During that time I was treated by the different physicians. All of them claimed that I could not be cured. I was greatly troubled with shortness of breath, oppression and pain in the side. If I became excited, or exerted myself in the least, the pain in my side became very severe. At times it seemed as though needles were shoot-

Killed at Superior. John Novoski, a laborer, was run over at West Superior at 6:30 o'clock this morning by Northern Pacific train No. 61, receiving injuries from which he died while en route to the hospital. The accident happened at the First street crossing. The locality where it occurred is considered a dangerous one, there being a double track, on which trains are constantly moving back and forth. To accommodate the travel to the elevators in the vicinity the road constructed a viaduct at Third street some time ago, but pedestrians, say the railroad people, have fallen into the habit of making a short cut across the tracks, taking their chances, as Novoski was apparently doing this morning.

Passed Bogus Checks. Henry King was arrested yesterday for a bogus check swindle perpetrated by him last August at the expense of Jack Caverly, of Hayden & Caverly, by which Mr. Caverly was parted from $15 of his wealth. King induced Caverly to cash a check purporting to have been drawn by W. A. Prince to King's order, and by King endorsed to Caverly. Since that time and up to a few days ago Mr. King has continued to cash bogus checks in the grand jury by Judge Eason this morning on the charge of grand larceny in the second degree.

Too Coddly Down. Deputy Sheriff Victor A. Dash left this morning for Stillwater with Samuel Cody, the forger, who was convicted for the second time at the September term of the district court and who now goes up to finish his original sentence of five years and two months, of which two years and eight months remain.

THE ARMOY OPENING.

Preparations Indicate a Very Elaborate Entertainment.

Great progress is being made by the boys of the local companies of the National Guard in their preparations for the opening of the new armory which will be held Monday evening, Oct. 26. There are squads, platoons and companies of men at the old Michigan street armory every evening drilling up for the occasion. The squads from the different companies are vying with each other in proficiency of drill.

The committees having the program in charge have made rapid strides in securing its completion. Mrs. R. L. Knefel will render a solo, F. W. Thompson, of New York city, who is a singer of note has been secured. Mr. Thompson's magnificent baritone voice will be heard by the Duluth public for the first time on this evening. Rev. Dr. Forbes, of Asbury Methodist church, will deliver an oration. A mandolin and guitar quartet is practicing every evening under the diligent care of Professor Werners.

The stage will be on the north end of the hall and will each clear across from balcony to balcony. Sgt. Charles Jensen has just finished painting a large curtain, which is very beautiful. It represents a wood scene with a little lake in the foreground and snow-capped mountains in the distance. The hall will be decorated with flags, evergreens and bunting, and will be made to present a handsome appearance. There will be plenty of room for everybody that evening, there being over a thousand seats in place, all with comfortable backs.

In addition to the companies already reported as coming, Company B of the First regiment, stationed at Minneapolis, will leave there Sunday night arriving here Monday morning. Company F, of Minneapolis also, Capt. Robedeau, will be present in a body. All the members of Company I, of West Superior, will be present and will bring their ladies. Spectators will come up to the balcony in a body as first stated. Among the best staff officers, who have accepted invitations to be present are: Adjutant, Advocate Ed G. Palk, on Col. Reeve's staff; Lieut. W. L. Winkler, Adjut. and Lieut. A. B. Cox, engineer officer on Col. Shindren's staff; Lieut. Col. C. E. Johnson of the Third regiment, whose name is in Minnesota, will be present. Altogether so far, it is known that there will be eight full companies here besides officers and individual men from other companies.

The Women's Relief Corps auxiliary to the Culver Post, G. A. R., will furnish refreshments. The menu will be published later, but here is no doubt but they will have the proverbial army dinner together with hard tack and coffee, besides the modern dainties.

Capt. Eya of Company A marched his company up to the new armory Thursday night and was the first captain to drill his company in the new hall. Corp. Bryan was hard at work Wednesday night putting a squad through extended order, kneeling and firing. Company C took in two new recruits at their meeting Wednesday night. There were thirty-five officers and men present.

Sgt. Coons of this company has the best drilled squad that will be seen on the stage at the opening. One new recruit was mustered into Company G at Thursday evening's drill. There were forty-two men present. The new armory is great and will undoubtedly please all who may see it.

Have Declared War. There is a war between the board of public works and the contractors erecting the McCormick building at Lake avenue and Superior street. The latter have been charged on Michigan street, until they had monopolized more than their share of that thoroughfare and the police had cleared the street back to the limit allowed by law. While the campaign was in progress on the Michigan street side, the lines were advanced on the Superior street side, and the board is now keeping a close watch on that front.

Chauteauqua Program. The Chauteauqua Literary and Scientific circle meets every Monday evening from 7:45 to 9:15 o'clock in the reading room of First M. E. church. The following is the program for Oct. 19: Fifteen minute discussion on the life and works of D. H. Lawrence. Lesson—"Growth of the French Nation," chap. 2, A. N. Leader, Mrs. Kendall. Lesson in Chauteauqua—"The French Republic," Mr. Ober.

THE HEARING.

Nils Nilson's Application For an Injunction Being Argued Today.

Attorney Greene's Grounds For Objecting to the Water Election.

J. L. Washburn Appears For the City Clerk and Makes Answer.

The suit of Taxpayer Nils Nilson against the city clerk to restrain him from proceeding to place the proposition to buy the old water plant before the people to be voted upon Nov. 2 came up before Judge Moer in special term of district court. Henry F. Greene appeared for the plaintiff and J. L. Washburn and F. J. Dorville for the city clerk. The city attorney was present, but he took no active part in the argument.

The matter came up upon an order for the city clerk to show cause why he should not be enjoined from proceeding to carry out the will of the council. Mr. Greene argued that it was illegal to bring the purchase before the people at a general state election, because the state charter provides that such elections should be held at general city or special elections. There are distinct provisions in the law distinguishing city from other elections. It provides that in city elections the returns should be made to the clerk and the council shall canvass the vote, while in state elections the returns are to be made to the auditor through the city clerk and the votes are canvassed by the canvassing board.

Mr. Greene inquired which law the election is to be operated under. If under the general law, there would be no authority for the council to canvass the vote, and if under the city law, it would be immediately to the city clerk. The purpose of the special law of 1891 was to place the water election on a par with other elections, and to give the people a direct vote on the matter.

At present the people are wrought up to a dangerous degree in the most exciting and noisy campaign in the history of the city. There are many state and county officers to be elected, and there is a number of amendments to be voted upon, any one of which would puzzle a lawyer as well as the common people. Under the guise of taxing sleeping cars, provides for changing the method of taxing, and for other purposes, the only ones who would take any interest in the election would be those who were pecuniarily benefited.

CLAIMS THE RIGHT. Mr. Greene contended that it was with a view of preventing such conclusion of national and local issues that the city elections were set for February, and from analogy of other sections its plain meaning was that city elections of any kind should not be held with general elections. As to the question of whether the right to submit propositions to the people was a matter of election is invalid or not, the court has no right to prohibit holding it by an injunction.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the court was still on. Mr. Washburn's principal claim is that no matter whether the election is invalid or not, the court has no right to prohibit holding it by an injunction. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the court was still on.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CLOCK. Protest Against the Way It Is Kept.

To the Editor of The Herald: Will you kindly give these few words a place in your issue? We are a town clock we have in our city, which is in the tower of the beautiful High School. We are proud of such a building which is the only one of its kind in our country. We are very sorry to say we cannot be proud of the clock that adorns the tower. It is a large sum of money, and we are now undoubtedly paying some one to look after it. To let it go in this way is a shame, as the clock is made to keep better time and can be kept correct if properly taken care of.

I presume that half the people of Duluth set their watches and clocks by this one supposed mother clock, and the consequences are that their watches are not correct with the observatory time, and some of them miss their train or are late at some meeting, and then they blame all on the man that repaired their watches. I will state right here that no matter how recently or when your watch was repaired, or how good a watch you have, you will be unable to have correct time if you set it by our town clock in its present state of care. Something ought to be done in regard to this clock as to its proper care and regulation, for the benefit of the community. Yours respectfully, A. J. WILSON.

There are a half dozen gowns that the New York woman who submits unquestioningly to her modiste must absolutely be provided with this autumn. She may have as many more as she likes and extend this list in a score of different directions, but these six are indispensable, says the New York World. And if the modiste be a wise and skilful woman the gowns will conform very closely to the following description, which pictures an autumn outfit actually made for one of the most beautiful of Gotham's society women.

This outfit, to substantiate its claim of being perfectly correct and thorough, must begin, of course, with the very foundation of a woman's wardrobe—that is to say with her nightgown. And a more charming robe de nuit than that described in the following is not to be found in New York.

DAINTY FRENCH NIGHTGOWN. It is of French make, and a band of heavy French embroidery outlines the neck, which is cut after the Empire fashion. The deep folds which fall over the sleeves are edged with finest lace and the front of the gown is a marvel of dainty embroidery. No ball gown could be more elaborately designed. The effect of the whole is a wonderfully dainty and graceful.

Every woman probably feels much more completely happy when crissed in a pretty wrapper, and nothing would be more useful and becoming than the dainty design here described, which comes from the Maison Felix of Paris. The gown itself is of black velvet, the loose front and puff sleeves of blue crepe. An altogether new design was used in making this robe, its only angular outlines being bordered with heavy white lace. A ruche of crepe about the neck completes one of the daintiest boudoir costumes seen in a long time.

FOR WEAR "AT HOME." Next in importance is the "at home" gown. This is an exquisite combination of black and emerald green. It is thoroughly French in design and color, having been designed by Paquin, and is, moreover, absolutely unique. The gown is made upon a foundation of green silk. A simple drapery of fine black lace net forms the skirt, which comes up snugly under a graceful belt of emerald velvet embroidered in jet. A sweep of black chiffon forms the front of the bodice and is gathered into a charming rosette on the left shoulder. A very deep jet-embroidered collar of green velvet falls over epaulettes of fluted chiffon. The sleeves are of fluted and wrinkled net, over the green silk, and end in a chiffon ruffle.

A DOUCET DINNER GOWN. A dinner gown created by Doucet is not the least conspicuous feature of this fine lady's wardrobe. Dinner gowns this year are to be of simple elegance, and the one here spoken of is an admirable example of the best fashion. One need only imagine the material (a heavy brocade of rose pink and black) to guess the beauty of the gown. A plain skirt is accompanied by an almost equally plain bodice, the latter having, however, a V-shaped front embroidered in rhinestones and two picturesque bows of black velvet caught with rhinestones. The sleeves are huge, fluffy affairs of rose pink crepe.

HANDSOME STREET OUTFIT. Most regal in appearance, however, is the street costume, which is a Felix creation. It is a charming harmony in brown—the gown a tailor-made affair of seal brown broadcloth, the hat a wonderfully becoming Gainsborough with wavy plumes and jaunty bird wings and the coat a magnificent sealskin.

Several important features of winter styles are shown in this sealskin. The sleeves have large puffs and the collar is high. This model has a vest and wide revers and deep turn-over cuffs, all trimmed with a rich applique of cream lace. Another pretty feature of the coat is that it ripples about the hips and fits very closely about the waist. The muff is a pretty little affair with applique of lace in butterfly design.

BALL GOWN BY WORTH. The climax of this trousseau is, of course, the ball gown, which was designed by Worth. It is an exquisite creation of heavy yellow satin made up under black gauze, the gauze being the very finest of coverings. Perhaps the most novel feature of the gown is the sleeve, which is a full, drooping puff falling below the shoulder itself and trimmed with rows of tiny yellow primroses. Bands of the same flowers come over the shoulders to support the bodice and outline the neck. The most stunning party gown of the season will be, indeed, she has so successfully preserved her youthful appearance that a hat is still appropriate. This new production of Ohio millinery is said to be known as the "McKinley hat," and its counterparts of it are already being worn in every state.

SOME STAGE GOWNS. An interesting study in contrast is just now being created by the gowns worn by various women prominent on the New York stage. On the one hand we have Anna Held, who appears in a bewildering variety of pretty frocks, each more Parisian and more becoming than the last. On night, for instance, she will appear in an exquisite little harmony in yellow, with just the right tone added by occasional touches of green.

The gown itself is a deep lemon color, combined in a thoroughly artistic fashion, with a deeper yellow that is almost orange. There is a band of green velvet about the waist, the bodice itself being brightly jeweled. The sleeves are two soft, little drooping puffs, and the gown is made altogether adorable by its garniture of yellow flowers, which cluster like garden blossoms as Mlle. Held dances about the stage.

Another evening she will appear in a gown of heavy white brocade, the front of the bodice being a mass of pearls. Now and then among the folds one catches a hint of silver embroidery, and a frill of chiffon peeps out here and there to relieve the heavy coldness of the satin.

With the remembrance of the little French beauty's magnificence in one's mind one goes to see Annie Russell in "Sus." There is no magnificence here. A pink cotton frock, alternating with a blue one of the same material, comprises the stage wardrobe of the heroine of "Sus." That these costumes are actually admired for their simplicity is a convincing proof that the farmyard drama has not yet exhausted its appeal.

SOME LIVE JEWELRY. Women have taken to wearing jewelry that is alive and crawls, a fact which requires some explanation. There is a little animal known as the Japanese terrapin, which for many years has been allowed to grow its humble way unnoticed. Then of a sudden some fickle Parisian ladies began to tire of their brilliant chandeliers, which they had formerly been fond of wearing as a substitute for jewelry, and the pretty little terrapin was attached to a gold chain and became the very newest fad. Then New York women took up the idea, and a New York jeweler, in response to the demand, has just ordered some hundreds of these living ornaments. Women are so quick to adopt an idea of this sort that it will not be very long before the bodies of every fashionable woman will be adorned with a crawling specimen, and the enterprising dealer's supply will be more than exhausted.

The terrapin is a harmless little creature, most amiable and unobtrusive in disposition and modest likewise in appetite. When one is tired of him as an ornament he may safely be kept in a box and will subsist contentedly on a fifth water and a fly or two every night. He has a pretty mottled shell, to which the gold chain is easily attached. This in turn is fastened to a stickpin, which may be elaborate or otherwise. A gold heart is the simplest design, and a gold dagger is likewise popular. The terrapin is often worn with evening gowns, when he astonishes the public by crawling over the owner's fair neck. One has to conquer a little squeamishness to keep up with modern fads, and the terrapin permits no exception to this.

MRS. MCKINLEY'S HAT. Mrs. McKinley has a new autumn hat. The shape, style and color were chosen by Mrs. McKinley herself and the results of her choice are so happy that hundreds of women are commending the little Ohio woman's good taste and preparing to go and do likewise. Mrs. McKinley has always had very modest preferences in the matter of dress, and her costume is usually of the neutral, harmonious sort that does not attract attention. She has never been a leader of fashion, and while taking a feminine interest in dress she never has a large wardrobe nor a stage resplendent frock.

This particular new hat is of Mrs. McKinley's favorite color, blue. It is somewhat of a turban shape, with a very rolling brim, and is made of very fine straw, and there is a plain velvet band about the crown. Although the hat turns up more on one side than on the other, according to a little caprice of Mrs. McKinley's, the sides are trimmed precisely alike. A high standing rosette of fluted green taffeta ribbon, an exquisite leaf-green shade, is just inside a cluster of blue and green flowers. The variety or name of these flowers would baffle botanists, but they are very pretty nevertheless, and are the most noticeable part of the hat. At each side they fit down close to Mrs. McKinley's short, curly locks and are not unbecoming to them.

The hat is altogether in excellent taste and very characteristic of its owner. Although Mrs. McKinley reached middle age some time ago she has never cared to wear a bonnet, and, indeed, she has so successfully preserved her youthful appearance that a hat is still appropriate. This new production of Ohio millinery is said to be known as the "McKinley hat," and its counterparts of it are already being worn in every state.

MRS. CLEVELAND'S HAT. Mrs. Cleveland has a new autumn hat. A Washington milliner executed it, and the inhabitants of that city are now being permitted to look upon it. It is said to be a wonderfully becoming affair, and for the benefit of the thousands of women who are interested in what Mrs. Cleveland wears it has been described in detail. It is of pale green straw, with brown dots scattered over it. There are small knots of

One side of the hat is trimmed with stiff taffeta bows in brown and green. The other side of the hat is a mass of snowballs nestling in green leaves. The back is a standing mass of lace, and the pointed top carried out the brown and green motif in an abundance of these leaves.

LATE FALL FASHIONS.

Furs Are More Popular Than Ever Before.

There is a decided note of modes as la Russe in the winter fashions. Furs of all kinds will be more popular than for many years past, and jackets of all varieties will not only be fur lined and fur trimmed, but they will be decorated elaborately with furs and fastenings made of rich passementerie and braids. The French creators of fashion, in anticipation of the arrival of the czar and zarina in Paris, decreed that the luxuriousness of the Russian court should be reflected in the new fashions and garments for autumn and winter. The skin of nearly every animal that crawls or walks upon the earth or inhabits the waters of the earth will be used this season to enrich the raiment of both men and women, says the Chicago Times-Herald.

Women of all lands will welcome the continuance of the craze for furs. They are not only beautiful, but a woman is never more fascinating than when she is encased in them. Many of the fashionable dames of America have large fortunes invested in rare skins. A bit of fur will be worn upon every occasion this winter. Its use will be universal. It will decorate all street garments, extending into millinery, and into the ballroom. The Russians originally used the skins of animals chiefly and solely for warmth. Consequently the heavy garments of cloth or brocade were lined with fur, which protected the wearers from the icy blasts. Thousands of dollars have been expended for furs for the unsexed lining of a great coat.

RUSSIAN SABLE.

Sable as used is the most elegant and popular fur for this season. It is obtained chiefly from Northern Russia and Siberia, and it is valued in proportion to the darkness of its color. The Alaska sable is also much in vogue. It is far less expensive than the Russian skin. A recently imported coat of dark green broadcloth velvet has a deep fur collar of sable which extends in stole-shaped ends down the front of the garment. Victorines of sable are all the rage, as are also the bas with natural heads and tails. Owing to the great expense of sable the capes, collars and muffs made of it rarely change in shape. In fact, the collars and other accessories fashioned of this soft, beautiful fur worn by the great-grandmothers of this generation are in perfect style today.

Sable will be extensively used for the neck trimming of ball and dinner gowns. It will even be used in combination with diaphanous fabrics of all kinds. Tulle dancing frocks will have their ruffled sleeves held in place at the shoulder with epaulettes or bands of the rich brown fur. Even if this combination seems a bit incongruous, it is a very effective and beautiful to every woman. Mink astrakhan, or caracul, will be in vogue, used in corsets for dinner and reception gowns. A charming frock, just completed by a Chicago modiste for a young widow who is licentious for mourning, has a skirt of dull black silk without trimming. The low-cut bodice is of French crepe, and it is finished by a corsage of mink astrakhan. The short sleeves are of the crepe. The top of the waist is arranged in flat plaits, held in place by dull jet nailheads.

BANDS OF MINK.

Narrow bands of mink will ornament the bottoms of evening frocks. In some instances seven and nine bands of the fur will be applied to the skirts. Ermine will again be popular this winter for evening wraps and cloaks. It appears both in linings and various shaped capes and collared. It will also be somewhat introduced as trimming for evening and street costumes. Novel evening or carriage wraps, with wing sleeves, are made of mink astrakhan, or velvet, lined with white or black tulle, and finished with a huge collar of the same fur.

As sleeves have so greatly diminished fur jackets built of every kind of fur will have a decided revival, and certainly nothing is prettier than one of the well-cut, well-fitting saskin or caracul jackets of the present time, which are different from the bulky garments of a few years ago as it is possible to imagine. The latest thing in a fur jacket has a high-fitting Doucet back—that is, the fullness is arranged in three box plaits at the back and a godet on each hip. The straight, loose front may be either double or single breasted. There is also a very smart jacket cut with the Doucet back that has a full and prosperous countries in the world, and furthermore her independent action in the world. The United States does not admit of further discussion of Mexico's prosperity or a review of the bearing of the same on the United States. Mexico is prosperous on a silver basis with a population of only about 13,000,000, of which the majority are of the same race as the civilized natives who live on the great haciendas and in our cities, constituting what is known as the "Mexican race," white and mixed races, contributing to the support of the government and carrying on the business of the country. The United States at a great country like the United States should open her mints to the free coinage of gold and silver, and stop waiting for the permission of any other country. This action on the part of the United States would be followed by favorable legislation by these countries that passed legislation adverse to silver when the United States took the initiative in 1872.

THE BICYCLE WORLD.

THE BICYCLE WORLD.

Cycle manufacturers are already busy preparing for their output of next season. In many factories models have already been built and before the end of the year the new models will be in the retail stores. Other makers have completed their plans, but are waiting to see if one in the trade is able to make a better bicycle than anything dealing with any particular complete change in the drawings. It is a saying among cycle men that the designers and designers employed by the bicycle makers are not to be depended on for the making of the succeeding season's models.

the men who design the style of frame of the 2-wheeled machine are already in the market for the machine of the last make and remedy it as much as possible, to make the bicycle of the next period.

While the plans are being made, and the machine is being made, the next period, manufacturers are not prone to disclose any of their designs. They fear that if they do, they will be copied, and would serve as a key to a rival and when the season opened more than half a century ago, the bicycle was so thought was exclusively their own.

If the words of the makers are to be believed, the bicycle of the next year's bicycle over that of the present year's will be a great improvement. It will hit upon in some of the details of the make, but the new machine as a whole will be a great improvement on the model. Manufacturers confess that the bicycle has rapidly reached perfection, and that the only radical change perhaps hinted at before can upset the present.

VERIFIABLE BICYCLE GIRL.

Sometimes next spring, unless her hair falls, Miss Christina Yates, probably the youngest girl in the world, will show Chicago riders what an octopus can do against time on the Coliseum track. She is only 10 years old, but turned 80 years old, but looks at least twenty years younger. She lives at an apartment house on North Dearborn, her old home at Columbus, Ohio, stopping on her way in Chicago. She is really a veritable octopus, when she is asked to declare that when it comes to riding a bicycle she does not know any one else. She was at an exhibition of riding in Jefferson park, Oakland, in the presence of a large number of people, and she was asked around the track and the figure eight with the wheel was a piece of cake. She had been riding since she had learned to make some fun of the aged cyclist. But Miss Yates does not feel the same about the bicycle as she does about the octopus. On the contrary, she enjoys attracting some attention, and

That motive power other than human is to be applied to the bicycle is one of the most unlooked-for possibilities. The rider is content to expel his energy in the most efficient manner by pedaling his bicycle for the health and enjoyment there is in the exercise, and in the fact that it is so simple and electric. The gear attachment, too, has reached a stage of perfection that it is not likely that this part of the bicycle can be much improved on.

It is not, however, the case of a little heavier construction, with the end in view of making the wheel support a load of considerable weight. The inventor will be the man Wilbur, who is fast of riding behind a train on the present reason has thinned its strength for lightness, and the machine weighs a pound or two more. The engine is more comfortable and the handlebars are heavier tubing in the forks and crank frame.

As to whether I need several of the prominent makers have placed orders for a big supply of the new machine. It is flattened on one side and will permit the rear wheel to be changed to a different size without a change of the machine. Where the tread was four and a half and five and a half inches, it is now four and five inches.

In The Herald.

Mya M. Bates. "It was queer to me," says the rider, "to see a man get on a bicycle to ride, I saw all these old gray-headed men around me, and I thought, 'What a queer thing to do.' The conclusion that there must be something good in it, I said to myself, 'I will give it a try.'"

And an old woman can equal him. So I got a wheel and commenced to ride and now I am a champion rider, and the champion rider of my sex, as you say. In a short time I am going back to my old job, and I am going to be just as good as I am now. I am just going to astonish the natives."

WHEEL FOR BAD ROADS
An English firm will soon put on the market a new type of bicycle wheel, from any ever built before. It has four wheels, three being small and one about the size of a motor car wheel. The wheels are placed in a line, and nothing is gained in the way of balance. The small wheels will run as smoothly over rough ground as the common wheel does over smooth. The novelty is especially expected to do away with the jolting and bumping of the road. It is well, make a cobblestone pavement.

ture the machine. "Makers have learned from their experience in the early part of the season to have plenty of tandems on hand and to be ready to deliver them at the closing season the call for the double-seated type was unexpected. Dealers have not been able yet to fill the orders sent in. Where 500 or more were ordered in the country two years ago, five times that number were purchased this season. The machines will be constructed to keep pace with the turnout of single machines, and the demand is expected to be nearly so great.

"It is a very simple machine, and a joy. If it does all that the inventor claims, it will be a great help to the overlooker the queer appearance of the machine and give it a trial."

TRICYCLE AMBULANCE FOR CATS

It will be new to most people that in London there is a hospital where sick cats are nursed back to health and that the ambulance used to transport a sick cat is a tricycle, which is seen when called for to bring sick Tom to the hospital. The cats are carried in a box placed between the

The 2-slated bicycle tire improvements timed at in the single are used. At the end of the season it was rumored in the trade that many of the prominent Eastern concerns were contemplating the abandonment of the use of the 2-slated wheels substituted with a bevel gear attachment. Later the story was denied, but now the Pope Manufacturing Co. has admitted that the 2-slated wheel attachment is being abandoned. They are said to be beyond the experimental stage and will be soon on half the machines the concern turns out.

HAS A BICYCLE THAT FLIES.

Lots of wheedmen imagine themselves to be flyers when astride their bicycles, says an Oklahoma writer. He declares that a bicyclist who is provided with only one pair of wheels is bound to be a worry about good or bad roads. When he comes to a bit of curbing, he will fly over it. If it will do the same with rivers and lakes, mountains and valleys, the rider on one mountain peak to another will be a flyer. He will fly over a thousand of an inch in diameter. The ball tracks the bulls are a sandh over a thousand un-

There is a difference if the balls are not all the same diameter in a single cup. The balls are of different sizes. Gauging is carried out in various ways. One method is to use a set of balls of different sizes. The balls through a magnifying glass as they travel down inclined ways. BI-CYCLE AND BOOK TRADE. Ask the average bookseller if the bicycle is a success, and he will probably answer in a somewhat hesitating affirmative. One of them responds that the bicycle has not, but he has probably had considerable experience in the matter. He is himself an enthusiastic wheelman, but concludes that the bicycle, as the book trade can only be temporary and figures it out this way:

"The bicycle means that at the same time a general increase in the number of people who can

FOR REBS

Workingmen Arranging a Great Reception For the Noted Leader.

Date of Attorney Robert Lincoln of Pullman Company Postponed.

J. R. Sovereign of the Knights of Labor is Coming Soon.

The working men of the city are making preparations to give Eugene V. Debs and Sylvester Kellner, president and secretary of the American Railway union, a great reception Wednesday evening, and it is more than probable that the demonstration in their honor will be one of the greatest of the campaign. There will be a great parade of members of organized labor, and there will be banners and transparencies in great number. Several bands will be engaged, and in every way the committee of workingmen is endeavoring to make it their event of this campaign. The reception given them will be a decided contrast to that given Mr. Powderly last week. Debs today probably has a greater hold on the workingmen than any other labor leader in the country, and it is undoubtedly due to his having been sent to jail without the right of trial by jury more than any other cause. They look upon him as a man persecuted by relentless corporate power, and their sympathy goes out to him for that reason.

Mr. Debs and Mr. Kellner will speak at the car barn at the West End. Mr. Debs has spoken here before, and is known to be a fine talker and a man of force and energy. He is a convincing speaker, and his address is that of a man who thinks, and is not a mere harangue.

The Republicans have changed Robert Lincoln's night from Wednesday to Thursday. They realized that the attorney of the Pullman Palace Car company would hardly be the stellar attraction on a night when Eugene V. Debs was in the same city.

Another great labor leader who will address the people during this campaign is J. R. Sovereign, grand master workman of the Knights of Labor. Like all the great labor leaders, Sovereign is on the side of free labor. He will speak at the Armory on Oct. 23.

AMUSEMENTS.

"FAUST" AND "CARMEN." Tonight at the Lyceum theater Madame Renard and George Taylor's production of these acts of dramatic grand opera, "Faust" and two acts of Elton's sparkling opera, "Carmen," will take place. A large sale has been given here by local artists, and the cash given here that created more interest. The cast includes the very best of Duluth's talent, and Miss Patricia sang a charming duet.

Chronic coughers are stupid boys and should be forced to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the only infallible remedy.

Should Not Throw Stones.

The morning prevaricator has in his local items this morning a brief note containing an interview with the hypothetical candidate for the local column of the Tribune, but let it pass. In the next item, after the paper has stated that the Herald is afflicted with a man for getting things wrong, and instancing the Indian's composition as a man of letters, the candidate states that Silbertstein and Bondy's story is a lie. There is not a child in the city that is not better acquainted with the city's geography than that.

Seven Months With Fever.

Wonderful Recovery of Health. Mr. Bald's rapid and marvelous recovery from a mere skeleton to his normal weight, his hands, was a result of the greatest strength-giving and building-up medicine ever produced.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve.

At the Nov. 5 meeting of the Douglas county board the workhouse project will be disposed of. The committee appointed for that purpose will recommend a site ten miles east of Superior, on the North Pacific, and $100,000 will be appropriated to build the institution. A large number of citizens of Superior have announced that they would like to superintend the workhouse. The superintendent will probably receive $3000 and board the prisoners.

Temporary Injunction.

In special term of district court Saturday, Judge Egan heard the application of H. B. Egan to have the receiver of the Security bank restrained from negotiating checks drawn on the bank after the institution was closed. By agreement, a temporary injunction was issued, to continue until the case is adjudicated.

A Month Earlier.

Wisconsin sportsmen have just discovered that they have been cheated out of half a month's deer hunting. Under the law of 1886 the season Nov. 1 to Jan. 1. A recent decision of the supreme court declared the law of 1886 inoperative, and the sportsmen would have just the season covered that the effect of that decision is to reinstate the old law, the season opening Oct. 1.

East Enders Won.

The East and West end football teams played a game Saturday afternoon at the Glen Avenue grounds, and the East Enders won by the very large score of 42 to 0. Will Morrison was referee, and Clarence Lemieux umpire. There were a number of pretty plays, and in spite of the large score, the game was an interesting one.

A WORN-OUT FAD.

"Spring Medicines," "Blood-Purifiers" and "Tonics" an Old-Fashioned Idea.

Pure blood, strong nerves and muscles, firm, healthy flesh can only come from wholesome food well digested. "Blood purifiers" and "nerve tonics" do not reach the cause of the mischief. The stomach is the point to be looked after. The safest and surest way to cure any form of indigestion is to take after each meal some harmless preparation which will of itself digest food. There is an excellent preparation of this kind composed of vegetable essences, pure pepsin, Golden Seal and fruit salts, sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and these tablets, taken after meals, assist digestion wonderfully because they should digest the food promptly before it has time to ferment and sour and the weak stomach relieved and assisted in this way soon becomes strong and vigorous again.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are superior to any secret patent medicines because you know what you are taking into your stomach. They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

Write Stuart company, Marshall, Mich., for book on stomach diseases.

REGISTER TOMORROW.

But Two More Days Are Allowed By Law.

Tomorrow and Saturday are the last days for registration. No excuses for not having registered on these days will go. Absentees must send in the affidavit of qualifications provided by law. Naturalized persons must be sworn to make oath to the particulars of their declaration. The same plan for the naturalized voters is to have their naturalization papers with them. There is no chance of mistake. It is estimated that the registration this year ought to be at least 10,000. The registration on Tuesday last was 5,000 or but little over one-half of the estimated total. Tuesday was the day on which an event more engaging for Duluth people occurred. Bryan was here and everybody was too much interested in the contest of registering. Registration tomorrow will probably be heavy enough to make up the right average for the two days.

CLUBS IN SESSION.

MARRIED ON THE STAGE.

Miss Eloise Mortimer Was a Bride Last Week.

Last week at Detroit Miss Eloise Mortimer, prima donna of the Wilbur Opera company, who is well known in Duluth, was married to L. Fred Schmidt. The marriage took place at the Hotel de Ville, and was a very quiet affair. The bride was dressed in a simple, elegant gown, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Reed Starni, the officiating clergyman.

Ladies and gentlemen, said Mr. Starni, an act is to be performed here tonight which is not contemplated by the play script. It is a drama as old as the human race, older than the church, and it makes the place sacred, not the place that makes the place sacred, the place that makes the place sacred.

A fair and a true marriage will consecrate a theater. It is not a question of morals; it is a question of taste.

"What I say here is not an apology it is in explanation, that you are to understand the sacredness of the ceremony about to take place.

The husband had fallen upon the audience was broken by the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march and the curtain rose upon a dingy room, scrubbed with plentiful floral decorations.

"Little Ella and another girl, bearing a tray with the wedding ring and the bride's bouquet, and Miss Palmer and Miss Darling, attired as brides, were to enter. Miss Maud Danila, as maid of honor, entered on the arm of the groom, and the bride, wearing a satin and lace, followed on the arm of W. D. Schmidt, the groom's brother.

Mr. Starni performed the ceremony and concluded with a prayer. As the ring was placed upon the bride's finger her lips lifted and kissed it, then the curtain fell.

THAT JOYFUL FEELING

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cheer which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old-time medicine and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

LIKE OLD FOLKS

Little Tote Want Coffee For Breakfast.

"Please let me have a little cup of coffee to break my doughnuts in—you know it and why can't I?" It is hard to refuse the cute little folks, even when we know that coffee and tea are injurious beyond a doubt, for the coffee and sweet bread and butter or doughnuts taste so good for breakfast. A physician has discovered a method of preparing grains so as to produce a beautiful drink, an exact fac-simile of the finest Mocha coffee and fatening and nourishing. It fits a place with weak stomachs and for the little folks' coffee. The coffee habit can be dismissed instantly when the new food drink is used in its place, and the health is assured because of the fact that it is made only of pure and wholesome grains. "It makes red blood," is the motto and Postum is the name. Grocers sell it and it is made by the Postum Cereal Company, Limited, Battle Creek, Mich.

A reliable grocer will never offer a cheap or weak imitation of a genuine original article. He knows that it is well to observe that when genuine Postum Cereal is used, it is not a question of Postum and not a spurious imitation offered as "just as good."

WHY IS IT? It catches a blood disease, as some claim, that physicians frequently advise change of air and climate to these sufferers. The trouble is a blood disease, and nothing but a local remedy or a change of air and climate will cure it. ## Panton & White

HER LOVER UNDERSTOOD. A Laneshire lady has been relating a rather pretty story about a factory girl's way of answering a marriage proposal. To her, says Pearson's Weekly.

The young woman could not write or read writing, and one day she brought a letter to me to read for her. It contained an offer of marriage.

"I happened to know that the writer was a deserving young artisan, so I said to her: 'Now, you must consider this matter very seriously, and if you like to come to me when you have made up your mind, I will write a reply for you.'"

"A day or two afterward I met the girl again and asked her if she wanted me to answer the letter for her. Oh, that is all right," said she, looking radiant and pleased. "I've settled it. I answered it myself."

"Why, how did you do it?" I asked. And then she told me that she could make a capital 'I' and that she stuck on a paper a piece of wool after it for 'will'—I won't.
